French Forces Are Said to Have Made Masterful Withdrawal From Serbia.—British Situation More Difficult.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Copenhagen, via London, Dec. 15.—A Copenhagen dispatch from Schleswig announces that the Super Zeppelin L. 22 has been destroyed and the crew of forty men were all killed. Paris, Dec. 14 (delayed).—"Not more than twenty thousand Germans are operating with the Bulgarian army that has been attacking the allies, according to intelligence gathered from prisoners," said a Havas dispatch from Athens dated December 13.

"The Bulgarians are estimated to have lost 5,000 killed and 15,000 wounded during the last few days."

made skillful retreat.

Salonika, Dec. 15, via Paris, Dec. 15 (delayed).—An eye-witness reports that the retirement of the French to their temporary positions in Greece near the Serbian border was conducted with great skill. All the wounded were brought in except a few which could not be moved. The guns were piled on endless trains of freight cars on which the last remaining inhabitants of evacuated towns departed. The Bulgarians were scattered among the guns or heaped on top of the cars. The city of Givgelyt was razed. The French rear guards were constantly in touch with the Bulgarians until they were forced to retreat. They then took the main forces plenty of time for strategic maneuvers.

Injuries among the French were slight, consisting mostly of frozen feet as the soldiers were compelled to march through the snow. The final positions which the allies expect to take up in a few days are being prepared.

British Retreat Difficult.
The British retreat from the Dorian section proved to be difficult. There was a sharp fighting in the Samitsa region, but no guns were lost. The British burned villages as they fell back and destroyed the bridges.

At Salonika the harbor is crowded with huge transports loaded to the gunwales with arriving troops. Freighters are disembarking munitions and stores. On land hospitals are being erected. The facilities of the hospital ships in accommodating the wounded brought from Givgelyt.

Transference of Greek soldiers from the neighborhood of Salonika has begun.

Near Ari Burnu there has been mine throwing activities and rather violent, though intermittent, artillery duels. Near Sedul there have been bomb and air torpedo fighting. Our artillery shelled a hostile howitzer battery and blew up its munition depot."

The note was cabled to Ambassador Sharp by Secretary Lansing, and it had been approved by President Wilson and the cabinet. Publication of text of the communication will await the note's presentation to the French foreign office.

HARSHLY CRITICISES U. S. ANCONA NOTE

Count Von Reventlow Asserts It Was Based on Unreliable Information and Is Self-Contradictory.

Berlin, Dec. 15.—Count Ernst Von Reventlow, in an article in the Tages Zeitung, said that the note sent by the United States to Austria regarding the Ancona case is characterized by a tone of curt command and hints of threats. He says he thinks it is remarkable that a note "based upon the right of self-defense" and "apparent" facts contains opinion, suggestion and demand of a specific and almost harsh character.

Count Von Reventlow states he regards the treatment of the note and circumstances of the case as quite superficial and even contradictory. He sees the contradiction particularly in the fact that the note alleges the Anconians tried to escape because the submarine fired upon her, whereas a few sentences later "the ship apparently neither offered resistance nor attempted to escape." The note, in addition, ignores the official Austrian description of circumstances.

The true explanation of this is, therefore, that the note is political rather than an attempt to treat the cause objectively, according to the count.

ADEQUATE NAVY OF CONCERN TO SOUTH

Secretary Daniels in Address at Charleston Declares Better Navy Means Bulwark to Commerce.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Charleston, S. C., Dec. 15.—The south has a vital interest in maintaining an adequate navy, declared Secretary Daniels, secretary of navy, in addressing the southern commercial congress here today.

"The south only has the south contributed to the power and glory of the navy in the way of heroism and romance," he said. "But her interests are bound up in an adequate and efficient navy."

For many years the south has suffered severely for lack of ships to carry her produce across the seas during the present European war, Secretary Daniels said.

"The south cannot raise cotton and tobacco if America is not to maintain a merchant marine for the bulk of these crops must find their market abroad. But along with the merchant marine goes an adequate navy. It is written in the stars that America is to have the former and therefore a responsible line of defense is indispensable in the shape of a well-proportioned and adequate navy. The latter is assured in the present five-year program, if the sixty-fourth congress enacts the project earnestly approved by the president in his recent address to congress."

In reviewing the south's intimate relations with the navy in the past, Secretary Daniels recalled that many of the great geniuses of both Revolutionary and Civil wars were southern men. The first three secretaries of the navy were from the south so that the south presided over the department from its organization in 1789 for twenty years, he said. Virginia contributed four secretaries, North Carolina three, and Alabama one each.

"The south," said Secretary Daniels, "has the right to be proud of the fact that the navy for a period of 42 years out of 177 of its existence, more than one-third of its life."

"The south with the worthy part she has played in the history of the American navy is not less interested in the navy now than in the past," declared the secretary in conclusion.

SHORTAGE OF $81,500,000 FOR 1916 FACED BY GOVERNMENT, HOUSE COMMITTEE FINDS.

NEED EMERGENCY ACT

Will Report Favorably on an Extension of Special Internal Revenue Law.—Expect Lively Fight Thursday.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Washington, Dec. 15.—Treasury estimates that receipts in 1916 will fall by $81,525,000 to meet disbursements including a ten million dollar postal deficit, are cited by the house ways and means committee majority report on the emergency revenue law extension filed today as evidence for necessity for additional taxation. It is estimated that extension of the law until December 31, 1916, would provide $6,800,000 a month.

Revenue from distilled spirits, fermented liquors and tobacco decreased $23,000,000 in the last fiscal year, the report says. The treasury department of ordinary internal revenue receipts for fiscal year ending June 30, 1916, are $270,000,000 compared with $282,399,750 last year, thus indicating a further anticipated revenue reduction from this source of more than $11,000,000.

The bill today was reported back to the house favorably with a view to consideration tomorrow. Party leaders have requested all members to be present tomorrow in anticipation of a lively party fight. Minority Leader Kitchen declares, however, that its enactment by the end of the week is certain.

CARDINALS TO PLAY VARSITY RESERVES

Game Between Wisconsin Reserves and Lakota Cardinals Here Friday Night.

This week on Friday night, the Janesville Cardinals will meet one of the strongest teams in the state, when the Wisconsin reserves, composed of varsity stars, invade the Lakotas court at the Auditorium. Last year the Lakotas played the reserves three games and in each contest there were combats both thrilling and sensational, which ended with two games for the Cardinals, and once the Reserver went home with the long end of the score.

The Cardinals' full strength will be in the field. Korst will play at forward and Stegeman will probably be on hand. Dayton and Hemming showed a noticeable weakness at shooting last Friday from the lack of practice and through practice during the week, this fault should be remedied. Edger and Atwood are playing in prime form and Korst is in mid-season condition from playing at Beloit.

It is stated that the Reserves will be a team to Janesville fully as strong as the varsity five. Olson, Hass, Meyers, Gregory, who played here last Friday in Korst's place, will be in the lineup. Facing such an all-star aggregation, the Cardinals will have hard sledding, to become victors.

This evening the Y. M. C. A. basketball team will go to Milton and play the Milton College five in the college gymnasium. The association team have been going through hard practice in the last few days and they expect to win from the college five. The lineup has not been fully decided upon yet, but those who will probably go are as follows: Koch, Stewart, French, Booth, Mout Jones, Cunningham, Shaddock and Kilmer.

HUNTING SEASON OVER IN MANY COUNTIES

Port Washington, Wis., Dec. 15.—The open season for hunting game in Washington and Ozaukee counties closed today. The season in other sections of the state will continue until February 1.

Sport Snap Shots
 MORRIS MILLER

J. Franklin Baker, former slugging third baseman of the Athletics, is said to have declared himself against any scheme that will send him to the Yankees. He intimates that if he returns to the majors it will be only with the White Sox.

Meanwhile, Connie Mack remains silent and Comiskey refuses to say whether he will make an effort to "will" the home team. At present Comiskey is banking on Pete Johns to round out his infield.

If Fred Fulton, who is mentioned prominently as Jess Williams' opponent, faces the champion heavyweight in New Orleans next March, the resultant bout will be between Fulton and Jess Williams. Fulton is a trifle over six foot four inches and scales about 235 pounds when in his fighting costume. Compared to these pugilists, Jeffries, Johnson, Fitzsimmons, Ruhlman, Corbett and Sullivan were small, while Sharkey and Choyinski were pygmies.

Indications point to a possible upheaval in college athletic standards during the coming winter. After the close of the present football season there will be a conference between the athletic authorities of Harvard, Yale and Princeton with the idea of preparing a new code of eligibility. In the middle west undergraduates are being voted by overwhelming majorities to permit the playing of amateur baseball by the players of the universities where votes were taken.

What influence this expression of student sentiment will have on the conference authorities cannot be told at this time, but it is evident that there is a strong demand for a broader and more elastic code for the governing of the undergraduate athlete.

Harvard lost her football team, says an exchange, "when the crimson team was defeated by Princeton, the neither Yale nor Princeton should be foolish enough to follow. Harvard returns most of her line, and for her backfield to supplement those who from Exeter, New Hampshire, returned better than Casey. Entwistle, who has learned a few things and who will be as valuable as Mahan, the place of losing Harvard's best backfield material for 1916 than she had this year, even with Mahan out of business.

At odd times during the playing season, there are mild hints that T. R. Cobb is going back, but this is always refuted by the official batting averages statistician in his annual December report.

After many rumors and denials as to his intentions for the coming year, James J. Callahan, former manager of the Chicago White Sox, has admitted that he has purchased a one-fourth interest in the Los Angeles Coast league club and will act as team manager next season, succeeding Frank Dillon. It is arranged that Callahan will purchase an equal partner with John Powers in the club. This will develop a price put on his holdings by Tom Darmody, now associated with Powers in the ownership.

It is more than likely that the spring series between the Phillies and Athletics, which for years has been played at Philadelphia, will take place in the south in March. Jacksonville and St. Petersburg are the Florida towns which will harbor the two major league teams. Secretary Shetline and Manager Mack are now arranging the schedule for these spring games, which it is believed will draw better down there than they would at Philadelphia, where there is no interest in the Mackmen. It is the intention of both teams to start for their respective training camps in Florida in the second week of March, but it is planned to return north later than heretofore.

Madison, Dec. 15.—The Wisconsin varsity basketball tossers are picked to win the conference championship. The men, Chicago losing Gray, Siegemann, Des Jardins and Gorgas, while Illinois is without the services of Bane, Crane, Willford and Dunner. Of the other six are the strongest. Wisconsin has four old men in the game this year, they being Lewis and Captain Bass, forwards, and Oleson and Smith at guard. Chandler is expected to develop into a greater star than Lange, and the five should be an excellent shape for the hard schedule of the first of the year.

College five, champions of the "little five," will play the Meanwell aspirants in the local armory tonight, concluding the work of the squad until after the vacation period.

HUNTING IS FAR THE MOST DANGEROUS SPORT

Hunting—62 killed. Football—16 killed. Baseball—59 killed.

These figures compiled on the most recent season in the three branches of outdoor sport show hunting the most dangerous pastime.

There are as many deaths in baseball as in hunting, but the baseball season covers nine months of the year, while hunting lasts only a few months, and there are many, many more persons engaged in baseball than hunting.

The football season lasts about as long as the hunting season, but the death toll is much smaller.

PAT O'DEA PRAISES THE WORK OF COACH DOBIE

Madison, Dec. 15.—Pat O'Dea, the greatest football player Wisconsin ever had, has written to President Van Hise of the university urging him to use his influence in getting Gilmour Dobie to Wisconsin as head coach next year.

O'Dea declares that if the western mentor is secured, he will place Wisconsin on the football map. The famous drop kicker is living in Seattle and has watched Dobie work his Washington University men occasionally.

Ping Bodie, former White Sox outfielder, recently drafted by the Yankees, but who refused to sign a contract, is going to appear in a new role. Bodie is now practicing for a spitball, and, according to reports from Los Angeles, he expects to come to the big league next season as a pitcher.

REMEMBER THE POOR.
Is it not true that the poor you always have with you? If so, in this Christmas giving remember the teachings of the great disciples and put aside some part of your Christmas gifts for the associated charities, the Salvation Army, some kindred charitable organization. They need the money. It will all be used advantageously. It will not be wasted and the persons deserving will receive the benefits. The young ladies and the heads of the various committees are most earnest in their work and all monies left at the Gazette office will be ready use in the various channels they have designated for the work. The urgent need is money and new toys. Will you respond?

THE FAILURES OF LIFE.
The federal trade commission reports that there are 250,000 incorporated concerns in this country, of which a full 100,000 have no net income. Possibly in some cases profits may be concealed in the form of salaries paid the owners. But as a whole this great number of non-dividend paying companies must represent a tremendous harvest of disappointed hopes.

It would be an interesting though melancholy thing to look through the records of corporate ventures that go wrong. Many millions are sunk annually on concerns that never get a foothold, patented articles that never sell, factories that never manufacture, stores that never pay a living. All these losses are a heavy tax. Yet the American people might be no better off were they less venturesome. The forming of every new business means that the more established concerns see the need of looking alive and keeping up to the times. The concern that fails has helped maintain healthful competition, and thus often renders a real public service.

"THE REAL TRUTH."
Official Washington has come to the help of Governor Harrison, whom political necessities translated from Tammany to Manila. The rescuing squad maintains that there never was better government throughout the Philippine Islands than now, says the San Francisco Examiner.

"The Examiner" affirms that this is not true. There never was worse government throughout the islands since American control began than there is now. There never was such bad government.

"We all know Harrison's political genius and why he blossomed with political honors. Family influence started him. Tammany influence kept him going. Without a supporting hand under him from early childhood he would have had small chance of official place. Mr. Harrison's natural abilities, without maternal and Murphy support, suggest to a speculative mind a probably successful career as an oyster-opener.

"We affirm, with confidence born of knowledge, that during his term as governor general, Mr. Harrison has broken up the finest body of civil employees ever organized by a controlling government for the conduct of colonial affairs, and that he has accomplished during nearly twenty years of unselfish American rule in the Philippines.

"He has disorganized the educational system.

"He has disrupted the postal administration.

"He has made the legislative body ridiculous, while permitting it to become corrupt.

"He has sown dissatisfaction among the satisfied Moros.

"He has earned the contempt and the bitter hatred of the entire American population of the Philippines, outside his personal, job-holding following.

"These are plain statements.

"For proof of their truthfulness we cite as witnesses such men as Dean Barrows, former President Taft, Representative Clarence B. Miller, and the whole American colony in the Philippines, with the sole exception of job-holders under Governor General Harrison.

One point brought out was that if the United States with its system of diplomacy is to be a permanent government of the people it will in a great measure be because of just such gatherings as he was attending, events that people can get together to study some of the questions of the day. Mr. Grubb has a very pleasing manner and his address was greatly enjoyed. He was accompanied by his wife, who kindly favored the audience with several readings. Mrs. Grubb is a splendid elocutionist and her selections will be remembered with pleasure by the audience. The first was a German dialect, "The Grip Germ," the second "Mon. ## HUNDRED DOLLAR REWARD OFFERED FOR TONY MARTIN

A. G. Metzinger Deposits Check for Amount—Must Be Caught in Next Two Weeks.

One hundred dollars reward has been offered by A. G. Metzinger for any person to give information that will cause the apprehension of Tony Martin, with or without the alleged Maude Lawrence on Friday last. The announcement of the reward came this morning, and as evidence of good faith the reward was deposited at noon.

The provisions of the reward is that the Sicilian must be caught within the next two weeks' time. Any person who reveals information that will directly lead to the arrest of the alleged murderer is eligible to the reward. This means that if some layman finds trace of Martin and through this information the police are enabled to arrest the murderer, the reward is not to be paid. The offering of the reward, it is thought, will prove a stimulant in the search for Martin in the middle west. Police announcements of posters were sent out this afternoon. With a reward attached to capture of Martin, made by police of other cities, search for the Sicilian, Italians, who to date have refused much aid to the authorities, may now come forward with reports that will aid the police.

Today the Janesville police were without any further trace of Martin. It is firmly believed that he is in Chicago. A few officers hold an opinion that the murderer is still in Beloit. It is almost an accepted fact that he went overland to Beloit after the shooting. Chief of Police Champion this morning stated that it was learned that Martin with another Italian had shipped a suitcase to Beloit the day before the murder. It is not known whether this suitcase was Martin's or the other man's whose name could not be ascertained.

"Martin has half a dozen names to section foremen and others, so the name under which this suitcase was shipped does not reveal any fact by which it can be learned if it was Martin's," said Chief Champion. "Martin will adopt another name, that is certain."

Martin's description has been circulated broadcast in the middle west. The reward announcement followed today. The police are in hopes of obtaining a photograph of the Sicilian and inquiry is being made of photographers today to learn if they have any negatives of the man. A small snapshot was obtained showing Martin at the time of the murder, but the picture of Martin is so small that a good enlargement was impossible.

Chief Champion has been in communication daily with the Chicago police department, but to date nothing has developed.

ADJOURN RATE CASE UNTIL JANUARY 4TH

Action of Southern Wisconsin Shippers Against Railroads is Rested Until New Year.

Because of the exhaustive amount of evidence that is to be taken before the railroad commission, on the complaint made by shippers of southern Wisconsin, the case today was adjourned until January fourth. The limit of the hearing of the evidence was set at noon, and there is an abundance of testimony still to be given by the southern Wisconsin shippers.

On January fourth this testimony will be introduced and the railroad will present their case at this time that they should not be compelled to reduce their freight rates to merchants of this district. The Janesville men present at the hearing will return this afternoon.

"Combining to hamstring the state" was the term used by T. T. Tittmore of Oshkosh when four intervenors of the freight rate case of southern Wisconsin shippers and manufacturers were mentioned to Senior Examiner Francis B. Dowd of the interstate commerce commission at the hearing at Madison. These intervenors are plaintiffs to the commission that the companies of the allied protesting organizations be dissolved.

H. C. Barlow, Chicago, filed the first intervention for the Chicago Chamber of Commerce. This was followed by that of the Wisconsin Freight and Traffic Bureau, the Chippewa Valley Traffic association and a number of shippers, filed an application to have all the Wisconsin shippers and manufacturers' freight rate readjustment is desired, consolidated. In an interview he charged Chicago and Milwaukee interests together with the paper and pulp manufacturers with combining with the rail lines to hamstring the balance of the state.

BIDS FOR LIGHTING STANDARDS OBTAINED

Offers for Material for Janesville's "New White Way" Being Received By City.

Daily the city commission is receiving material and offers for the equipment to be used in the installation of the new lighting system in the business district of the city. E. V. Koroh is preparing plans and blue prints of the streets denoting the places where the lights are to be placed. It is estimated that the "white way" will take about one hundred and thirty posts, this being a maximum estimate.

Mayor James A. Paterson this morning had photographs of the Union League Standard and blue prints of the light. This standard is of a most handsome design, having a sharp, clean cut, classical lines of pressed metal construction that allows for a massive, highly ornamental and properly proportioned standard. The design would in all cases harmonize with the public structures. The pressed metal construction, it is said, prevents accidents, as the case with cast iron pipes. An insurance guarantee is placed upon these pressed steel standards.

Some progress is being made in the removal of the old poles and power poles from the main streets, although the workmen have been handicapped by cold weather of late. A decided improvement is noted wherever poles have been removed. The poles being experienced by the companies owning the poles in caring for their wires and cables running on side streets, where poles are allowed.

THEDA BARA SEEN IN SENSATIONAL DRAMA

The Widely Discussed Picture, "A Fool There Was," Displayed in True Glory at Majestic.

The Majestic theater had a difficult task last evening in accommodating the large crowds who flocked for admission, eager to witness the much discussed play, "A Fool There Was," a six reel visualization of Kipling's famous immortal poem, "The Vampire," which proved to be the drawing magnet, and to say it made a deep impression is far from putting it too strong.

Theda Bara, herself, showed that she was a drawing card of no mean value, placing herself in the heart of the story in true, distinctive ability. Her part was played with a vim and she very cleverly showed how easy it is for a woman of alluring and fascinating personality to force many a man to play the role of "fool" in life's great game.

Edward Jose, who appeared as the "fool" in the play, did some very clever acting, fully justifying his endeavor to keep to the high standard of his partner, Little Rupa Hodges, as the child of the "fool," brings the only touch of brilliant sunshine into the darkened scenes of sorrow, sadness and the horrible consequences of the life wasted in the toils of a human vampire.

The drama is magnificently set among beautiful scenes and no expense was spared in the newest selection of scenes and furnishings for the piece. It will be shown again tonight at the Majestic.

FINAL PLANS MADE FOR XMAS GIVING

Associated Charities Hold Meeting on Monday to Make Plans for Distributing Xmas Cheer.

At the meeting of the workers of the Associated Charities on Monday afternoon final plans were formulated for distributing Christmas cheer throughout the city. Forty families have been reported as deserving and some others are still to be seen.

In order that the regular funds of the society should not be too heavily drawn upon generous contributions for this special Christmas work are asked for. Contributions may be left at the Gazette office or sent to the treasurer of the Associated Charities, W. O. Newhouse.

A number of individuals and clubs have taken the responsibility of providing for one or more families giving great assistance to the association in this way.

The association, through the general secretary, Rev. Henry Wilmann, is acting as a clearing house of information concerning all families in need. The Salvation Army, the Elks' Charities committee, and others are co-operating with the Associated Charities in the endeavor to see that no deserving family is without Christmas cheer. Very generous donation of seven-five bags of Big Jo flour is promised from the Big Jo Milling company through Bannison and Lane of this city.

GIRL IS DESERTED
AFTER OPERATION

Twenty-Year-Old Girl Brought from Browntown to Monroe and Man Disappears.

(Special to the Gazette)

Monroe, Wis., Dec. 15.—Miss Thelma Price, a twenty-year-old Hobart, Ind., "husband" at the Trickle hotel at Browntown, has been brought to this city and taken to the Green county farm.

The woman had been traveling with this man and shortly after arriving at Browntown she was taken seriously ill. Dr. Rouse was summoned and upon examination found that the woman had been the victim of an attempted criminal operation and that her condition was most serious. Following the discovery of the physician the man disappeared from the village, the belief being that he waited out of town, there being no train at that hour. The case is one which might have resulted in death, but for the timely attention of the physician, and feeling is quite high in the village over the fact the man in the case left during the night when the woman was most serious, and this leads to the belief that he was a more of a mystery behind the case.

LOU TELLEGEN MAKES
FORCEFUL FILM HERO

Bernhardt's Former Leading Man
Makes First Screen Appearance.

"The Explorer," which was presented at the Apollo yesterday, is a straightaway tale of adventure, daring, roguery and love, all mixed in such a way as to hold the observer alert to the unfolding.

Besides the general excellence of the production there are two players who won for themselves many laurels. Lou Tellegen made his first appearance before the camera, though he has acquired a goodly amount of fame by being Sarah Bernhardt's former leading man. He makes the kind of hero who not only looks but does. He is forceful and compelling.

Dorothy Davenport is only a little bit of the picture, but she is in it to such good purpose that she leaves a strong impression. "The Explorer" is a lucky production, released through the Paramount Program.

AT THE PRINCESS.

"The Millionaire Paupers" on Thursday.

A couple who have never met are asked to marry by their parents. They rebel. Seeking diversion in the temptations they meet incognito. They help to smooth over a romance that is near ruin through the meddling of a villain and then return home each resigned to fate. Then the joyful surprise comes. For the most part this is a delightful picture. The story by Lill May Park has received excellent interpretation and realistic atmosphere. Each member of the cast, which includes Grace Thompson, Arthur Shirley, Lon Chaney, Oliver Fuller, Golden Millard K. Wilson and Gretchen Lederer, deserves praise.

Buck Kilby, whose matrimonial relations have never been tedious, says marriage is the only sentence from which the condemned man gets no time off for good behavior.

AT MYERS THEATRE.

No game of chance ever invented is as illusive as the theatrical business. Fortunes are won on discards and lost on sure things. What is it that makes for success in playwriting? Elmer L. Heizenstein supplies the answer in his "On Trial." In it the traditions of the theatre are violated, not only once but many times, yet in twenty-five years the American stage has not known a greater success.

"On Trial" wins by its very daring. It is a novelty and its newness and freshness immediately stamped its author a genius whose first effort at playwriting succeeded while those of older and more experienced men received but scant recognition.

It is inevitable then that "On Trial" will have many imitators, but if their efforts are presented with the cleverness of Mr. Heizenstein's work, which leaves nothing to the imagination, the American dramatists will also see several rungs on the ladder that spells success in the playwriting game. "On Trial" will be seen at Myers Theatre Thursday, Dec. 16.

The advance sale of seats at the present time gives every indication that a large house will greet this performance.

AT THE APOLLO.

Julia Dean Appears in Photodrama.

Julia Dean, the Broadway star, and Harry D. Carey, considered one of the finest character actors on the American or English stage, are featured in the principal roles of "Judge Not," an inspiring six-act feature photodrama, produced by the Universal Film Mfg. Co., which comes to the Princess theatre on Friday.

"Judge Not" was cast into photoplay form by Harvey Gates of the Universal's western scenario staff from Peter B. Kynd's six-act story. Robert Leonard, star and director of "The Master Key" serial, produced the picture.

AT THE MAJESTIC.

Anita Stewart in "The Juggernaut" Tomorrow.

Everything we would say about the story of "The Juggernaut" is so pale and unimpressive compared to the tremendous climax of this, the colossal of railway drama—that we shall give only an outline of the plot. Two young men—the brilliant son of poor parents—the other the disolute heir of a great railway king, become friends at college.

One thinks he has accidentally killed a drunken rowdy in saving the other's life—they two only know this secret.

Both fall in love with the same girl—who marries the rich boy only after his chum has withdrawn from the race because of his poverty.

Years later one becomes president of his father's old railroad—the other a righteous, fearless district attorney. Both again worship the same girl—daughter of the old sweetheart of both—one with a father's deep affection; the other because she is her mother's counterpart.

The district attorney bitterly attacks the railroad in the courts. His former chum threatens to expose him as a murderer.

And now—imagine the girl on a train approaching a bridge which cannot possibly stand its weight. Both men know this. Both are rushing madly by automobile and motor boat to intercept it.

You see all this. See the girl's sweet face at the window of the flying train—feel the swaying of the automobile as it skids desperately around sharp turns—and the bounding of the motor boat slashing through rough waters.

Both men and the train come crashing into the picture at the same instant—too late!

For a moment that seems an eternity, you feel yourself sitting almost under the tottering trestle as the enormous engine—a mass of whirling steel—leaps, thundering and quivering into the empty air and falls shrieking to the swirling river.

The big coaches crumple like cardboard before your eyes and pile themselves up on the wreck—their passengers floundering and struggling in the debris.

Again you see the girl—Again her father—

"Let Us Meet and Counsel Together"

PLEDGE OF THE EPWORTH LEAGUE

I will earnestly seek for myself and do all that I can to help others attain the highest New Testament standard of experience and life. I will refrain from taking such diversions as can be used in the name of the Lord Jesus. I will so far as possible attend the devotional meetings of the chapter and the worship of the church, and will take some active part in them.

The Epworth League is the young people's society of the Epworth Methodist church. Under its banner practically all the young people of the church are enrolled. No other church has succeeded in organizing its young life so extensively and at the same time so effectively as has this association by means of the Epworth League.

The Epworth League is the result of the amalgamation of the other societies which united to form the new organization in May, 1889, at Cleveland, Ohio. It has stood for three great ideas in Christian life and service: democracy, initiative and fellowship. It manages its own affairs and gives training in responsibility and capacity. The league's fellowship is maintained by conventions, institutes and in a large measure by the Epworth Herald, which has helped much to keep up the unity and enthusiasm of the great multitude, which in widely separated places is one league offensive and defensive in the service of Christ. The meetings of the league become a training school in devotion in Christian confession, in fellowship and in leadership. It has discovered great fields of practical service in the church work for the young people. The social service work and the peace movement have been very largely helped by the league.

Hospitals, orphanage and training schools are benefited by their co-operation in many ways by the gifts of money and supplies or by service. The foreign missionary work in some states is largely supported by this society and it gives the personal note so much needed in mission work. The supply of missionary recruits in the past twenty years has come mainly from the ranks of the Epworth League.

Every activity of the church, every element in the individual Christian character of its members has profited by the use and spread of the Epworth League through the Methodist world. From the beginning of its existence the work of the league has been taken up in various departments, Christian, literary, social and musical, entertainment, and in many others, they are thinking a little more than formerly about serving the community. They have a broader notion what the Christian stewardship means. A study of Community methods is especially recommended by the central board and the department of social service gives every aid in promoting this investigation in local environments. A word given by Bishop Matthew Simpson is, "We live to make our own church a power in the land while we live to love every other church that exists on earth."

The local Epworth League has the following list of officers: President—Hugh Heenan. 1st Vice President—Eliz. Billings. Spiritual Dept. 2nd Vice President—Cora Wilhelm. Missionary Dept. 3rd Vice President—Ethel Richards. Literary Dept. 4th Vice President—Dora DeLisle. Social Dept. Secretary—Pearl West. Treasurer—Bessie Petty. Their regular meeting time is at 6:30 every Sunday evening at the church.

THE ASSOCIATED CHARITIES.

An enthusiastic meeting of this organization was held at Thursday, Monday afternoon, the president, Miss Josephine Carle, presiding. A report was given by Father William Willman on the general condition of the Christmas festivities planned by the several societies. Many women's clubs are to furnish baskets. Also individuals, who signify the fact that they wish to furnish "Merry Christmas" for some worthy family. One women's club is to contribute toys, and another will furnish Christmas stockings for the Christmas dinner, but also cranberries, tomatoes and various other substantial supplies. The value of each basket was estimated to be about two dollars and sixty cents. Where the family contained children, candy with nuts and toys were added. Father Willman also said that he was glad to announce what some of the societies were going to do. The Eagles were going to do the Santa Claus act in the finest kind of a way. They are going to have a great big Christmas tree for the children on the afternoon of the 22nd. They will prepare to entertain from 200 to 500 children, and give them each candy, fruit and toys. One plan is to have tickets printed, saying that the bearer is invited to come to the party at the specified time and place. These will be placed in the Christmas baskets by the Associated Charities, where the families have children, and also sent out to the needy on the lists. The members of the Eagles society will also have tickets to dispose of among those whom they know.

Altogether it can not fail to be a very happy occasion not only to the youngsters themselves, but also to their hosts. Father Willman also spoke of the permanent fund gotten together by the Elks to relieve poverty and suffering. This fund is augmented at Christmas time so as to be able to do more at the holiday season. They make it especially of providing flour, warm clothing and food for those who need them. They have always done much in the past in this line and expect to do even more this season.

A motion was made that the various committees meet on Wednesday afternoon before Christmas to prepare their baskets, so they might be distributed on Thursday. This motion carried. The outlook is bright for a bright and merry Christmas for the poor and unfortunate in Janesville this year. The great tender heart of humanity throbs with sympathy toward those who need help during the holiday season. The ties of brotherhood never seem so strong as during this period. So it is only necessary to remind the public that what they have to donate, both in funds, substantial and toys, will be gladly received by the Associated Charities and placed where it will do the most good. Send your contributions to the Gazette office and they will be placed in the hands of the board of the Dental Clinic.

The dental inspection of the pupils of the city schools was finished on Monday, Dec. 12. The system includes an individual card for each child, with a description of the condition of the teeth. These are placed on file in the office of the board of education and are preserved for future reference. A duplicate card is also sent to the parents, calling attention to the child's teeth.

Women's Clubs Endorse Suffrage. Within the last month the Federation of Women's Clubs in two states—Texas and Florida—have gone on record as endorsing women's suffrage. This is significant of the change of attitude in the southern states, which have always been backward in this respect. The Illinois Federation at their convention in Rockford in November asked for a nation-wide amendment enfranchising women. The Wisconsin Federation last year endorsed the idea of equal suffrage so that there are now thirty state federations which have gone on record as favoring suffrage for women.

Civil League. The regular meeting of this organization was called for Monday, Dec. 13. It was postponed for lack of a quorum.

BABY WEEK. March 4-11, 1916—Save One Week Out of the Club Year for the Babies.

The Children's Bureau of the United States Government and the Civics, Home Economics and Public Health Departments of the General Federation of Women's Clubs have united to carry on a nationwide Baby Campaign during the week commencing March 4th. The Wisconsin Federation of Women's Clubs gives this movement its hearty and complete co-operation. They ask help of every club and every community. Write to the Children's Bureau, Department of Labor, Washington, D. C. Attention of Mrs. Goodwin, for full directions and assistance free. Baby Week in Wisconsin will be a great success if all organizations and individuals interested in "Better Babies" will unite in working for it.

This call has been issued by the National Federation of Women's Clubs to join in helping the cause of Child Welfare by setting aside part of the week, beginning March 4th, as Baby week. It is intended to take up some of the topics suggested by the recently organized Children's Bureau and consider any work helpful to the subject. Women's clubs that are interested can secure valuable facts and suggestions for a club program by sending to the bureau listed above. State of Illinois Will Have Baby Week Contests.

The Illinois baby contest will be held during "baby week"—March 4 to 11—in contests in each of the 103 counties under direction of the state board of health. The contests will be held in the homes of the mothers. Or, St. Clair Drake, secretary of the board, announced recently that the competitions for better babies would represent his state's activity during "baby week," which will be observed throughout the United States.

The organized medical profession, all public health bodies, women's clubs and civic and social organizations of every description that are interested in child welfare will be asked to take part in the undertaking.

Explains Contest Plan. "Perhaps the best contribution this board and the medical profession of the state can offer to this movement is a co-operative plan for holding strictly scientific better babies' contests or baby health conferences in every community," said Dr. Drake. "The scientific work of such conferences or contests is carried out by and under the direction of local medical societies, the work of promotion to be done by local women's organizations or somebody appointed for this purpose." Dr. C. St. Clair Drake, secretary of contest at the Illinois state fair and is convinced such events are beneficial.

Cites Good Results. "I never have seen as much in the way of immediate good results from any child welfare exposition as that which came in the wake of the better babies' contest at the fair," he said. "There is something in these contests which seems thoroughly to awaken the mother to the importance of correcting the defects in her child. It is my experience that she promptly interviews the family doctor."

To simplify the work of such contests the state board will distribute literature on how to organize Better Babies' Contests. "Instructions on Scoring Methods" and scorecards, tables of standards and certificates of examination.

Babies will be scored on 102 points.

RELIEF CORPS OF G. A. R.

This organization had its regular business meeting and election of officers on Tuesday, Dec. 7th. The new list of officers has been already given, but many interesting facts were brought out at this meeting. There have been seven deaths from the Relief Corps during the past year, three of them being past presidents. It was decided to arrange some Christmas parties for the members of the Relief Corps during the holiday season. The corps always sends flowers to the sick and keep their own membership in that respect. A very nice thing was done, last week, on Saturday, Dec. 4, when a beautiful flag was presented by the ladies of the corps to the St. Patrick school. It is to be placed on a pole in their school yard and will no doubt be greatly appreciated by the pupils and teachers of the school.

On Friday of last week, an oyster supper was served to the members of the Department Post, G. A. R., by the ladies of the corps and a pleasant musical and literary program given.

DISTRICT FEDERATION.

There was a meeting of the executive board of the District Federation of Women's Clubs held in this city on Tuesday, Dec. 14th.

The ladies lunch together and held their meeting in the afternoon at the home of the president, Mrs. E. F. Woods.

The following ladies were present: Mrs. Deland, Milton first vice president; Mrs. Stewart, Edgerston corresponding secretary; Mrs. Loomer, Delavan, treasurer; Mrs. Dickinson, Edgerston, chairman of the committee; Mrs. Moriam, Beloit, chairman educational committee; Mrs. A. B. West, Milton, chairman home economics committee; Mrs. H. D. Murdoch, Janesville, chairman reciprocity committee.

Routine business was transacted and the applications of several clubs for admission to the federation were considered.

The plan of having a celebration of Baby Week in each town was talked over and discussion ensued as to the best methods to reach the remote places. Each lady agreed to go home and work up the plan among the clubs of her home town.

DRAMATIC CLUB.

The regular meeting of the Dramatic club was held at the city hall on Monday evening. The topic of study was the consideration of the plays of Granville Barker.

The first two acts of the play, "The Boysey Inheritance," was read by a picked cast. A very interesting discussion ensued, when the problems suggested by the play were considered. The last two acts of the same play will be taken up on next Monday as will also be the outline and critique of the dramas, "Waste and the 'Marrying of John Leets'."

This will be the last meeting of the club till after the holidays. During January there will be a series of entertainments, when several short plays are to be presented by groups of players.

Something unique in this connection may be expected which will no doubt be very pleasing and profitable to all concerned.

YOUNG WOMEN'S ASSOCIATION.

At a recent meeting of the executive board of the Young Women's Association, the matter of an organization of some form of a young women's club was taken up and discussed. The idea seemed to be with a majority in charge, that it might best be started in a small way in connection with a rest room, under the auspices of the present committee of the Y. W. C. A. The Young Women's Association is interested in the project and help to finance a rest room and it could be used for evening classes of young ladies without interfering with its other purposes. As being products of its successful influence for both purposes. All members of the board volunteered to be on the lookout for a suitable place for the venture.

O. E. S. STUDY CLASS.

This club has their next meeting in the form of a social held in Masonic Hall on Thursday, Dec. 16th. There will be a picnic supper, contributed by those present and a display of fancy work. Each member is asked to bring a toy to be donated to the Associated Charities for their Christmas festivities. The whole affair is in charge of the officers of the club, Mrs. Welrick, President.

PHILOMATHIAN CLUB.

The next meeting of this club will be held on Saturday, Dec. 18, with Miss Cora Glenious of Cornelia street. The program is as follows: Forest Conservation in Wisconsin. Mrs. Koebelin. Brazil. Mrs. Whiffen. Our Part in a Better Janesville. Mrs. Helms.

ART LEAGUE.

The next meeting of the Art League will be in the form of a social held on Friday, Dec. 17th. The committee in charge are Mrs. Murdock, Mrs. Thorne, Mrs. Clara Howe, Mrs. Taylor and Mrs. Dadrick.

The affair will be in the form of a thimble party held at the Alcedonian rooms at 2:30 o'clock. There will be a program and light refreshments will be served.

AFTERNOON CLUB, EVANSVILLE.

This organization shows a spirit of timely thoughtfulness in its recent program, as a suitable preparation to the holiday season. It had papers given on "A Snow Christmas," Christmas Candles and Municipal Christmas Trees.

EDGERTON.

This city is preparing for a municipal Christmas tree. It is intended to be quite a home event for the

THE LOANI BAND.

This organization met at the parlors of the Congregational church on Tuesday evening. A delicious supper was served at 6:15 o'clock. Mrs. R. J. Hart and Miss Edna Shoppell being the hostesses.

The meeting was opened by a responsive service led by the president, Miss Leora Westlake. Two vocal selections from "Plantation Melodies," "My Curry Headed Babe," and "Sweet Miss Mary," were given by Miss Mary Ewing, with Miss Grace Murphy at the piano.

The guest of honor was Mrs. Jas. Moore, first vice president of the Women's Board of Missions of the Interior. She chose as her subject "The Golden Jubilee," meaning the fiftieth anniversary of the founding of the board of missions. She spoke of the great changes that had taken place in the Orient even in the last twenty-five years, and how much these changes had ameliorated the degraded condition of womanhood, especially in India, China and Turkey. She spoke of the many schools, the medical hospitals, the schools for deaf, dumb and blind children, established by the missions and the good work they were doing.

She spoke of the great industrial school at Poonah which has a capacity of 1,000 pupils and is teaching them the common arts that they might be fitted to be self-supporting. She mentioned several of the enlightened women of India, Pundita Rhamabi and Lillavati Singh, who are teachers of lawyers and poets, as being products of the new order of things. She said that China was anxious for education, and the mission schools in that country were crowded to capacity. She made the announcement that there was a new day dawning for the womanhood of Turkey. That the mission schools were full of overflowing in spite of the war and that many needs were urgent, so funds were necessary to forward the work.

She closed with a plea for help in the mission field as a thank offering for the approaching anniversary. Several guests were present and a delightful hour was enjoyed after the meeting adjourned.

PLAGUE OF RATS IS "WORSE THAN GERMAN" SAY THE ENGLISHMEN

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.) London, Dec. 15.—There is a plague of rats along the British and French lines in Flanders and France. A soldier describes the invasion as "worse than the Germans" in a letter, which adds:

"Trenches, communications, fields, woods, houses, cellars and barns are choked with them. We have them in our congresses at night in the busiest roads and giving concerts by day in the most crowded villages."

Married Life on $80 a Month

By MRS. E. A. LEONARD

"This is my sister's picture," said Mrs. Travers as Molly sat down to help her in her new quarters. "She lives 'way out in Montana on a ranch. I am going out there as soon as school closes. You see she and her husband are living in a claim. They have three hundred and twenty acres that they are breaking and it will be a great wheat ranch when it is under cultivation. What means money these days," observed Molly, much impressed. "Yes, indeed," assented the communicative little body. "There is a piece of land that I want to buy for sale and I want to buy the relinquishment next summer if I can save the money."

"What is a relinquishment?" asked Molly. "Why, someone took up the government claim and started to live on it for five years and got tired of it would like to sell out. They usually get something for their time," explained the new boarder. "If a person has land it is bound to be worth something in time," said John, who had turned to lead little Jack out of the room.

"That room belongs to Miss Travers and you must not go in there," she said impressively. "I turned to see the conversation," said Molly, "and I saw you were taking up land out in Montana?" queried Molly after John had asked a number of interested questions. "Because I am a bookkeeper and lonely, with no one to share his little moments, I am dependent on the crumbs of companionship his children could spare him, would she be happier? Not she, nor any other wife who really loved her husband.

Household Hints

TWO VEGETABLE SOUPS.—"Something New" Soup. One cup rice, two medium-sized onions (two small carrots, two tomatoes (or the amount of canned tomatoes), a little salt, and two tablespoons olive oil. Slice the onions and carrots and cook all together. Celery seasoning improves it. This is easily digested and may be put together in five minutes.

Kale Soup.—Take kale after a good frost, cut it fine, boil it about ten minutes, then drain off water, pour on fresh water. Take kale and potatoes, each half a few onions and a piece of pork; boil all together until done. You will have as fine a meal as ever was eaten.

LAYER CAKE.—One and one-half cups granulated sugar, three eggs, two cups sifted flour, three rounding teaspoons baking powder, flavoring, butter size of small egg, and one-half cup milk. Two-thirds cup cold water. Cream sugar with three egg yolks until light, add melted butter, then the flour sifted again with the baking powder, add flavoring, and last, the milk. Beat whites together until dry. Put in hot oven, then reduce the heat. If cake is baked in slow oven at first it rises too much and is not delicate. Have your pans always greased before you begin baking. Put butter to melt and do not forget your wooden spoon.

If you want to make a chocolate cake melt 1/2 ounce of chocolate and add to cake dough before you add whites of eggs. Bake a little longer than plain cake.

This recipe makes three layers. To have over night, five minutes before you are ready to put cake in turn on both flames. When you put cake in turn one burner out. In five or six minutes turn the other burner low, not out. Your cake will never burn.

THE TABLE.—Clean a four-pound fish, sprinkle with salt inside and out, stuff and sew. Cut five diagonal slashes on each side of backbone and insert narrow strips of butter. Sprinkle with salt and pepper. Brush over with melted butter, dredge with flour and place around fish small pieces of salt pork. Bake in hot oven one hour. As soon as fat is dried out continue basting every ten minutes.

Stuffing for Fish.—One cup-stale bread crumbs, one-fourth cup melted butter, one-fourth teaspoon salt, one-eighth teaspoon pepper, one egg yolk (chopped), one-fourth cup hot water.

Drawn Butter Sauce.—To be served with fish. One cup butter, three tablespoons flour, 1/2 cup water, one-half teaspoon salt. Melt half of butter with flour and seasonings and pour on gradually the hot water. Boil five minutes and add remaining butter in small pieces. (All measurements must be level.)

To Bone Fish.—After cleaning fish lay on table, with thumb under backbone, run thumb on down to tail and your fish is boneless. Another way is to cut all open in the back under stomach, place thumb under backbone and pull open to tail and backbone will come out nice and whole. Drop fish in seasoned corn meal, fry in deep hot lard, cover fish and fry a nice brown.

Hot Fry Bread.—One egg, one cup granulated sugar, one-half teaspoon salt and one sweet milk, two cups flour, 2 1/2 teaspoons baking powder. Ingredients in order named. Let stand in greased pan five minutes, then bake forty-five minutes in a hot oven. A little more flour may be required for very stiff batter, according to kind of flour used.

Creamed Chestnuts.—One quart of Italian chestnuts boiled half hour in salted water. Peel and add to a rich cream dressing. Serve with chicken or turkey.

THINGS WORTH KNOWING.—Cheese Waters.—Spread wafers with a little butter, sprinkle with cheese mixed with paprika. Brown in oven.

For Doors That Bind during the cold and wet weather—Dust affected parts with French chalk or boot powder put at any shoe store, and notice how much easier your doors open and close.

SIMPLE HOME REMEDIES.—To prevent a burn from blistering, rub with a piece of raw potato. Remedy for Chills.—Soak feet in hot salt water in which potatoes have been boiled.

SIDE TALKS —By— RUTH CAMERON

The Second Wife.—How could he? That is what many of the neighbors said when a neighbor of ours married again. The young people, I think, were more sensible than the middle-aged and old. Haven't you noticed they usually are in such cases? Forty-five or fifty seems pretty near the jumping-off place to them, and they don't see why anyone who has had a happy married life until then shouldn't be satisfied.

However, that's a bit beside the point. The point is that we all, young and old, with various degrees of fervor, said, "How could he marry again after such a perfect companionship as he had with his first wife?"

Perhaps I shall be a Little More Careful.

This was about four years ago. The other evening when I dropped in to visit this neighbor and his wife (who he incidentally became one of the best-loved women in the neighborhood), some allusion in the conversation brought back to my mind the day I heard they were married. And I thought to myself—"I will never again criticize what other people find best to do." Of course I am a little more careful.

When this man announced his intention of marrying again, many people said, "His children are grown-up, and he is old, and he needs a wife to look after young children and what does he need of a companion? Can't his unmarried children be companions to him?"

His Unmarried Daughter Was Much Absorbed.

At that time, he had two married children—a son and a daughter—still at home. The daughter was even then on the eve of an engagement, and needless to say, was very much absorbed in her own affairs. The married son was away to college. How much companionship was there for him in his unmarried children?

When I dropped in the other night he was reading aloud. "We're reading Dickens, this winter," she said, laying down the little jacket she was crocheting for the youngest grandchild. "I don't mind crocheting."

Which one of his children would have sat before the fire with their father, evening after evening, reading Dickens?

Life is very fond of the great outdoors, and so is she. Every Saturday afternoon the two of them take a long tramp. Which one of his children would keep Saturday afternoon inviolate for that tramp?

They go to Vespers Together.

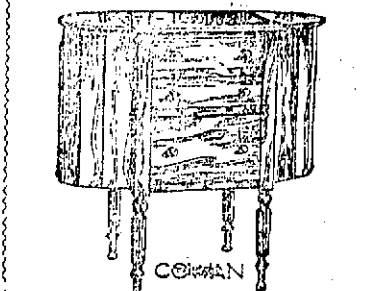

He loves organ music, and every Sunday afternoon they go to a vesper service where there is fine music. Which one of his children could be depended on to always accompany him?

Mind you, they are good children and they love their father, but of course they have their own interests and those interests are not always his. Hers are.

He is happy with a reconstructed quiet happiness that I feel sure his first wife would never resent. I do not doubt that his love for her is just as deep and sacred as ever, if she could look down and see him.

Jelly Roll Recipe

Only Two Eggs Required

By Mrs. Janet McKenzle Hill, Editor of the Boston Cooking School Magazine

This Jelly Roll is fast becoming very popular on account of the way it keeps fresh. With proper handling it should keep fresh a whole week, providing it isn't eaten up in the meantime, for it is every bit as good as it looks. 33

K.C. Jelly Roll

One cup sifted flour; scant half teaspoonful salt; 1 level teaspoonful K.C. Baking Powder; 1/2 cup milk; 1/2 cup sugar; 2 eggs beaten lightly; 1 cup sugar; 1/2 cup hot milk; glass of jelly; powdered sugar.

Beat the sugar into the eggs; add the lemon rind, then the flour, sifted three times with the salt and baking powder; and, lastly, the milk. Bake in a ten-inch dripping pan; turn out on a damp cloth; trim off the crisp edges; spread with jelly and turn over and over into a roll while still warm. Dredge the top with powdered sugar.

Hot milk used in the jelly roll enabled it to be rolled without danger of cracking. Have the milk scalding hot, also be careful to have the eggs and sugar beaten together until very light and creamy. Bake in a moderate oven.

K.C. Jelly Roll is illustrated on page thirty-two of the new and handsomely illustrated 64-page K.C. Cook's Book, which may be secured free by sending the certificate packed in every 25-cent can of K.C. Baking Powder to the JAGS MFG. CO., Chicago, Ill.

HARD LUCK
"Why is Louise always so short of money—didn't her father leave her a lot?"
"Yes; but you see, she's not to get it until she's thirty and she'll never tell when she is."

An everyday remembrance, and an ideal gift—a year's subscription to the Gazette.

HEALTH TALKS

By WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.

Your Card of Identification. It may be that eventually every individual in the country will have his thumb-prints, Bertillon measurements and personal description filed in the office of the Prefect of Police. This would be a good thing for us all.

Merely as a matter of self-defense it is a wise precaution to carry on your person some sort of identification mark, especially if you happen to be a traveller or a subject of any chronic disease.

Think what a lot of trouble the fellow seemed who was "subject to sudden spells of unconsciousness" and wore about his neck a chain to which this notice was attached: "If found unconscious, the bearer, John Jones, of Hicksville, desires operation. His appendix has already been removed four times!"

Seriously there is good reason for carrying some identifying mark at all times. Sudden insanity, epilepsy, uremia; diabetes; alcoholism; epilepsy; amnesia; certain heart diseases; simple fainting; it is a common experience in every city to find persons unconscious with one of these conditions, and too often the identity of the victim is established only after much trouble, if at all.

Of course the individual may be stricken without warning, but in most cases there is at least some inkling of the possibility of such an emergency, and warn the victim of the need of taking precaution.

One of the simplest marks of identification is the writing of name and address in the labels of clothing. There are numerous other marks of identification which will serve the purpose, provided no deliberate effort is made by an assailant to remove such clues. The victim of a crime, however, is more readily identified than the victim of disease, for the simple reason that machinery for the former purpose is always available, whereas the problem in the latter case is usually left to a few disinterested observers.

Put your John Hancock in your clothes and protect yourself against one of those "strange" disappearances" which occur so frequently in the news of the day.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

Peroxide Dangers.

(1) Does peroxide injure the tissues or tissue cells if used in fresh wounds? (2) Does it (as claimed by some) tend to scatter germs or infection when used as a mouthwash, instead of killing them? (3) Do you consider it more injurious that useful as an antiseptic?

Answer—(1) Yes. (2) Not in the mouth, but in wounds, especially punctured or deep wounds, it tends to drive infection deeper. (3) Yes. We think its value very limited, and we consider it inadvisable for promiscuous use. A few drops of tincture of iodine in a few teaspoonsful of water would be preferable as a mouth wash or lotion for infected wounds (not fresh wounds).

Suspended Function.

Will you please suggest what would be proper treatment for a suspended function in the case of a young girl whose health seems below par.

Answer—Absolutely nothing should be done except to learn the cause of the poor health and have that properly treated without particular regard to the suspended function.

Heart and Home Problems

Letters May Be Addressed to Mrs. Thompson, in Care of The Gazette

Dear Mrs. Thompson: (1) I met a young man at a party here a few months ago, and thinking to tease the other fellow I was with I asked the young man to call me up. Since then this young man has created me very coldly.

How could I tell him that it was only a joke?

(2) I have blue eyes, golden hair and a light complexion. I would like to know something else to use.

(3) What would be a nice Christmas gift for a young man? BLUE-EYED BLOND.

(1) A girl should not ask a boy to call her up. To try to explain things to a girl who is so coldly treated is are you better let them stand as they are. You must have cheapened yourself in the eyes of both, the man you were with and the one you asked to call her up.

(2) A pale complexion is often very pretty and always prettier than an artificial one. Don't use anything but a good cold cream and powder.

(3) A girl should not give a boy a Christmas gift unless she is engaged to him.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: (1) Will you please tell me what to do to get thin? I am fifteen years old and weigh a hundred and twenty-five pounds and I am five feet two inches tall. Will you please tell me what to eat that will not make me fat?

(2) (Concerning treatments to reduce flesh.)

(1) Get as much exercise as you can and if you give up sweets, eat foods that contain fat, and stop drinking water with your meals. I think you will get thin enough. You don't very much too fat now. Fruits, except banana, would be good to eat, but no sugar should be used with them. Apples and prunes are especially desirable. Thin soups and gravies are good. Lean meats are excellent.

(2) The treatments you mention would be harmful to the health.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: (1) I am sixteen years of age. Do you think it is right for me to go out with boy friends?

(2) How late in the evening should a girl of my age stay out?

(3) I have a boy friend who speaks to me when we meet. Lately he made an appointment with me and I disappointed him. He is still friendly to me. Would it be all right for me to buy him a Christmas present—some simple remembrance?

(4) Name a few things I could give a girl friend for Christmas—something she could make use of but are not too expensive? DIMPLES.

(1) It is all right to go some, but a girl of sixteen should not go more than once or twice a week.

(2) It depends upon circumstances. Let your mother decide.

(3) Send him a Christmas greeting if you want to, but don't give him a present.

(4) Stationery, gloves, handkerchiefs or a slipper bag.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a stenographer for two married men. They have asked me several times what I want for Christmas. If they should happen to give me something should I accept it? ELIZABETH.

and navy, and her nearby ally, France, without also supplying Italy's needs. And so coal is mounting—$8 some time ago, then $10, then $15, then $20, $25, and now $30.

People no longer buy coal by the ton, but by the bag, and a bag of coal which can be swung over the shoulder costs $7. This means, of course, that poor people can no longer buy coal and can no longer keep warm, except as the mild Italian climate may help them. But the climate does not help the railways and factories and industries. Italy is the worst sufferer from coal shortage and excessive price. There has even been talk, since Italy is at war with Germany, of getting coal from Germany, and for the possible exchange of some other articles of mutual need. Importing coal from Japan is also being considered, but the transportation cost is so great that Japanese coal would probably not bring the price down much in Italy.

Wood as a substitute is out of the question, for Italy's trees and timber supply is practically exhausted, and even bundles of twigs and faggots have become a luxury at high prices.

PACIFISTS IN PROTEST

V. P. Richardson and Reverend Ewing
Make Able Pleas as Peace
Advocates—Discuss Pros and Cons.

If Janesville's attitude toward peace—that "at peace" variety—was manifested last evening at the gathering of its representative citizens, the Twilight Club, at the Y. M. C. A. building, then the pacifist with his peace love and olive branch will find no haven of welcome in this fair city.

Preparedness proved to be the keynote of the meeting. The pacifists were buried under a tidal wave of concrete and steel arguments of their own arguments when the forty-two centimeter refutations of the "No Ready" advocates were turned loose and the arguments of the former fell even as the once thought impregnable defenses at Namur and Liege and Antwerp.

Though vanquished in verbal battle and with but few shreds of their arguments intact, like the remaining remnants of King Albert's little Belgian army, they battled to the last.

Charles W. Dyer, Waukegan, Ill., an attorney, one of the first three commissioners elected by that city when it adopted the commission form of government, and a vocal advocate of the Navy League, was the speaker of the evening. His topic was, "Our First Line of Defense Against War."

It was not a discourse relating to or advocating the use of modern armament of war to offset invasion of the United States, and it did not treat specifically, or otherwise, any of the hundreds of scientific inventions employed in the devastation of human life and property in the greater part of the civilized world at the present time. Rather, it struck the chord of preparedness from a hundred different angles and showed conclusively the position of the United States on the trembling pendulum of world's peace.

"The Navy League," the speaker said, "stands for American merchant marine, the elimination of the work barrier, the taking over of manufacturing machine necessities and accessories of war for the United States for its army and its navy, and for various other purposes along the same line."

"It has been charged that the Navy League has been fostered and subsidized by the steel interests, but we refute this argument in our advocacy of taking over these same armament plants. The league is non-partisan and welcomes membership from all walks of life. It is interested in the co-operation of the American people for defense and preparedness for war."

"Nothing can be said in favor of war, it is true, and it is likely true that much can be said against it. That is neither here nor there in our case. We, as a civilized and leading nation of the universe, must be ready to cope with any emergency which may confront us."

"It is a matter to maintain peace and therefore peace is the best manner that can be obtained. The pacifists argue to the contrary regarding the means available to secure these relations with the remainder of the world and it is my intention to attempt to show the falsity of their belief."

Navy League Decayed.
"When the war of the Revolution broke upon the thirteen original colonies, our only business primarily was trading and fishing. In those days, however, sea warfare, as compared to that of the present day, was child's play. It was an easy matter to convert the swift sailing merchantmen into schooners of war by mounting a couple of guns fore and aft. There was no armor then. The close of the war found the new nation with an excellent fleet, strong ships and with well-trained and hardened crews, as brave as ever sailed the seas."

"But there is no converting now as in the days of 1776, even with a large number of ships. It is impossible to make a battleship out of the trading steamers we have."

"After our first war, Jefferson's policy was a navy deteriorated. There was no protection to our coast lines and both England and France opened up on us a guerrilla warfare of the sea. Then to the extent of pressing American sailors into service on their ships."

"The war of 1812 found us unprepared. There was no thought of war with England until that Kentucky, Henry Clay, made his appearance in the halls of congress. We muddled through that all right and we muddled through the war of the rebellion."

Big Navy Necessary.
"But had we had adequate ships, adequate in number, in crews to man them, in preparedness to supply them, the war of 1861 would have been terminated from one to three years sooner or than it was. It was the realization of Europe that the sea blockade of the south by the north was something more than a scrap of paper, that brought the climax. This paved the way for peace and solved the problem in favor of the north."

"We paid dearly for the lesson of unpreparedness. What are we to do now? The Monroe Doctrine has caused us no end of anxiety and if we do maintain that we are in the right regarding its provisions, then it behooves us to do so with dignity and not with theories."

"People of the United States invariably think that their country is immune from the ravages of invading armies. This is erroneous. It is certainly not true. Science and modern invention have shortened greatly the distances from American shores to those of foreign nations. True, the hour in blue whiffed Spain in eighty-two days, but we cannot be too cocksure that we are therefore prepared for any other emergency which may spring forth, even as suddenly as the storm which kindled all Europe into war was fired."

The Case of England.
"We must judge the future by the past. Before the conflict of the present day, England celebrated the anniversary of one hundred years of peace. Not since William the Conqueror in 1066 invaded the country had a foreigner set foot upon its shores. This is erroneous. She was prepared for war. She was prepared for war. But her armament did not invite war. It was race hatred, greed, desire for commercial supremacy and economic reasons which brought the conflict in England."

"One must not think that the advocates of the Navy League are to make the United States an armed camp. Switzerland's military policy has stood her in good stead in maintaining her present neutrality. Her citizens training did her good. But what chance for little Belgium. In contrast to England, she was prepared. Wherein, then, do the arguments of the pacifists hold water? Being unarmed for peace is not any reason for being in check that nation of greed which wants that something we possess."

"If unpreparedness is a guarantee for peace, why then has not China peace with honor and territory in her hands? Why, then, should the United States with its institutions and traditions, drop China's yoke of unpreparedness? Let's have no army and let's junk our navy. Then we'll do away with the police forces of our cities and towns and villages and we'll move the police forces into our windows and doors. We'll get along fine, you know! It's all the matter of trusting mankind. If we're going to start with the nation as an example, why not the way."

Present Ships Obsolete.
"At the present time it would be murder to put our boys on battleships and destroyers and let them go off by themselves. If we are going to stride along forward as we have as a nation, hereafter, then let us do it efficiently and let us not do it at all."

"The biggest arguments of arbitration are a strong army and navy. We have 21,000 miles of sea coast to defend and we certainly need a strong navy."

"This is the age of treaties, the age of 'ships of paper.' Controversies that are rising now must be met squarely and if nations who have entered into compact with us do not live up to their agreements then we must have something which we can fall back upon aside from these treaties. "Byron says that a million men can be massed at the call of the president. Mobs make no armies! Merchant ships make no navies. It takes from three to four years to build a battleship. Therefore, we must begin our preparation now. The manual of arms for our citizens with a strong navy will make invasion impossible and I think that the three years of preparedness a foreign nation will consider a long while before they attempt landing on American shores."

Know Where to Strike.
"European countries now know all our weaknesses. Therefore, we can save money now in the upbuilding of our navy. The time has arrived for it and it would be foolhardiness to wait that catastrophe of magnitude of which would be appalling."

"You question how it is going to be possible to bring about this change for a greater navy and how to arrange sentiment for war? Write your congressman your views and ask him to give his support to the programs for preparedness already before congress. This will have far more effect than you may ever realize. It will mean a vast change in the personal of committees handling naval affairs and no doubt will do away with such cases as that related of the Indiana congressman who received a naval affairs committee, who, when taken onto a warship in New York harbor and spying the hold, peeped through and groined in horror to his companion, 'Gimminy, gimminy, this whole dern thing's hollow!'"

"Do you gentlemen realize that if the British navy were to attack the United States and that at that time we would be wholly unprepared to know whether they were moving to strike at Bangor, Me., or at the Panama Canal? It is a fact. We have no fast battle cruisers, no fleetly craft which are to the fleet as what the cavalry is to the army. We are utterly without any of these fast little scouts and is highly eminent, as the few naval ships of the present war have shown, that such ships are indispensable for victory."

Eliminate the Graft.
"Then again we should get dollar return for dollar spent. We have not been getting this in the past for naval expenditures. Why? The committees have been ordering obsolete types of war craft built just to give their constituents in their own particular section of the country work. Your letters to your congressmen will show them the follies of previous ways and will also demonstrate to them that patriotism in America is not dead yet. Let us set an example for future generations."

"The Hague Tribunal looked in effectiveness. Why? Well, because there was no chief of officer with authority and being in charge of the draft and executive orders. And still now there is no authority back of a force that is able to force peace on Europe and to enforce it even if such the world's peace. Peace talk has been all theory. Reasonable peace is the topic of the hour. We must have it not at any cost, but at the cost of the world which will prize in the United States its present position as among the leading and civilized nations of the world."

Richardson in Plank Attack.
Vice P. Richardson announced himself as opposing the policy of the Navy League and also against war, "largely because the present programs have no end in view," he declared. "It is far as we to go," he asked, "containing, he argued that preparedness by the United States meant preparedness against us. Incidentally, he said, there were some points Mr. Dyer's address that were not well taken. He tossed a hand grenade into the ex-commissioner's trench by coming back with an argument relatives to United States navies after the war's end, the end of the rebellion. In the latter conflict, he argued, Buchanan's sympathies lay with the south and as a result the greater share of the United States army was there in the evening of the struggle and the United States navy cruised in southern waters. Had both the army and navy been larger there would have been just so much more opposition to the south."

Mr. Richardson read extensively from a book of lectures by the late Professor Kramm, the eminent English scholar and historian, to illustrate his point for peace. The reading however proved to be of the nature of apophthegms with the wind blowing back into the Richardson trench when Thomas S. Nolan a little later took the floor and announced himself as acquainted with the volume in question and asking that if it were not a fact that the paramount reason of the historical writing was but for the sole reason to warn England to be prepared, Mr. Richardson admitted that it was.

Another League.
Honorable John A. Wheeland was called upon and explained the purpose of the League to Enforce Peace. Mr. Wheeland has been selected as the Wisconsin chairman of the organization. He is a charter member of a body which was founded in Philadelphia some months ago. The league is neither for or against peace but has set out to attempt to prevail upon the nations to adopt the adoption of a code of international law the fostering of a court of appeals wherein nations will settle their differences and the organizing of the nations into a body to bring to time any obstinate nation which attempts to take matters into its own hand and war without arbitration before the tribunal of world powers, on any nation, a member of the organization."

Alexander Galbraith of Edmonton, Canada, formerly a member of the Twilight Club, was present at the meeting and was called upon to express the views of one nearer at hand to affairs of the struggle than others. Mr. Galbraith spoke briefly of conditions in Canada. George S. Parker, William H. Hughes, P. J. Mount, Thomas S. Nolan, George Sutherland, A. E. Matheson and John Cunningham and several others were called upon and as a whole announced themselves as advocates of reasonable preparedness. The addressed were impromptu. Mr. Cunningham's discourse brought rounds of applause both for his patriotic sentiments and for his reasons and manners in converting the arguments of Mr. Richardson. The point which seemed to have the greatest humor effect and one based on "sound judgment" with many underlying thoughts came when he turned to the peace advocate and asked, "If the enemy begins to invade our shores do you suppose you're going to stop him and make him realize the advantages of peace by reading to him from a book?"

Backs Richardson.
Mr. Richardson however was not alone in his peace sentiments. He was ably supported by the Rev. Chas. W. Ewing whose masterful closing address full of vim and appeal to humanity brought rounds of applause. The clergyman thought that four billions of dollars proposed for defense of the United States could be better expended in divers channels aside from those for war. He went into detail to demonstrate his arguments and as a whole more than made up for the friendly criticism to which Mr. Richardson was subjected.

AS WE GROW OLDER

our minds are quite as active as in former years but our strength does not respond when we need it most; perhaps the kidneys are weak, the liver torpid, rheumatic pains or stiffened joints beset us, and we cannot easily throw off the colds that winter-brings.

What we need is the rich cod liver oil in Scott's Emulsion to renew the blood and carry strength to every organ of the body, while its glycerine soothes the respiratory tract, and its hypophosphites strengthen the excitable nerves.

Scott's Emulsion is a scientific food, of unusual benefit to those past fifty years—particularly during the colder seasons, it imparts warmth and creates strength. One bottle will prove its worth. No alcohol or harmful drugs. Scott & Bowne, Bloomfield, N. J. 15-36

Purely Personal

As regards habits of living, that, of course, is purely a personal matter with each of us.

But some folks go on for years wondering what causes their nervousness, heart flutter, biliousness, headache and various other ailments.

A frequent, though often unsuspected cause, is coffee drinking. This, because coffee contains a powerful, habit-forming drug, caffeine, (about two and one half grains to the average cup) which, taken regularly, finally drifts many into ill health.

Think it over.

Of course, it's your own affair. If you can go on drinking coffee and feel no evil effects, why—bless your heart, keep it up—but there are hundreds of thousands who have quit coffee and now use —the pure food drink.

They know from the better health that follows, that freedom from the drug, caffeine, in coffee makes life brighter and happier.

Postum is made of wheat and a bit of molasses—has a rich, snappy flavour much like that of mild Java coffee, yet contains no caffeine or other harmful element.

Postum comes in two forms. The original Postum Cereal requires boiling; Instant Postum is soluble. A level teaspoonful in a cup of boiling water makes a delicious drink—instantly. Cost per cup is about the same for both kinds.

Personally, the change to Postum is a little thing to do. The benefit is great.
